
Listening

by Sean Snowden

I wake up
And see I'm somewhere else
Fears fading
Surrounded by my friends

I hope they can see
There's nothing to do now but pray
My memory escapes me again and again

(Chorus)

I can see with my eyes
And feel your love
It's holding me together
I can see with my eyes
And feel your love
I'll be with you forever

A new day comes
Another day full of the faces I love
Don't look so sad to see me
It's your smile that keeps me strong

We all get lost sometimes
Forget how it started
Remember the good times

(Chorus)

I may not speak to you in words
But I know you can hear me
I know that you're there for me
It doesn't matter what tomorrow brings
My friends and family bring out the best in me
I may not speak to you in words
But I know you can hear me
I know that you're listening
To my heart

(Chorus)
